^E The best way to determine if you have a Limited Slip Differential (LSD) is by raising the front wheels with the transmission in Neutral. If the opposite wheel turns in the same direction you have LSD. ^F Selec-Trac has a push button for the 4WD, Comand-Trac has a Lever for the 4WD.

^D AX4N has 19 Trans. Oil Pan Bolts; AX4S & AXOD has 17 Trans Oil Pan Bolts. ^E The best way to determine if you have a Limited Slip Differential (LSD) is by raising the front wheels with the transmission in Neutral. If the opposite wheel turns in the same direction you have LSD.

^A Compare the IJB seal boss of the new axle to the old axle. If the old axle has a sleeve on it for an aftermarket support you will need to transfer this sleeve to the new axle. ^B If the original axle has a stub shaft inserted into the IJB you will need to transfer it to the new axle. ^G Check Tag in trunk for RPO Code, F17=2.84 ratio, F83= 3.05 ration, FW2=3.06 ratio, FQ3=2.86 ratio.

^A Compare the IBJ seal boss of the new axle to the old axle. If the old axle has a sleeve on it for an aftermarket support you will need to transfer this sleeve to the new axle. ^B If the original axle has a stub shaft inserted into the IBJ you will need to transfer it to the new axle.
